If I'm to be a valiant knight
Then there's a battle I must fight
And I must choose right from the start
Not strength of arm
But strength of heart
My sword shall of good steel be made
And love the keenness of the blade

Verse for the Michaelic Age by Rudolf Steiner: ALL

We must eradicate from the soul all fear and terror of what approaches us from the future. We must acquire serenity in all feelings and sensations about the future.

We must look forward with absolute equanimity to whatever may come. And we must think only that whatever comes is given to us by a cosmic guidance full of wisdom.

It is part of what we must learn in this age, namely, to live without any security in material existence and to live with pure trust in the ever-present help of the spiritual world.

Truly, nothing else will do if our courage is not to fail us.
For this let us seek awakening to the reality of the spirit from within ourselves, every morning and every evening.

"The Michael age has dawned.
Hearts begin to have thoughts.
Enthusiasm no longer flows from mystical obscurity, but from the inner clarity that thought conveys.
To grasp this is to receive Michael into one's soul. Thoughts that today seek to grasp the spirit must spring from hearts that beat for Michael as the fiery cosmic prince of thought."
